GIST

Mushroom are a fascinating subject, with a rich history of cultural and culinary significance. Nature alone is an antique and the oldest art a mushroom.

Every semester Botany department of St. Josephs Degree College manoeuvres the final year life science students to undergo enthralling experience of visiting one of the largest mushroom units in SOUTH INDIA FRESH BOWL HORTICULTURE PVT LTD. The trip is regularly organized as per the need of the curriculum and to provide students first-hand experience of observing the techniques in mushroom cultivation.

The unit is spread across 36 acres of land with spawn unit cropping, growing composting yard etc.

A total of 147 students studying Mushroom Cultivation as skill enhancement course in their V semester visited the unit to gain practical knowledge of basic infrastructure and raw material used as substrate.

Program Objectives:

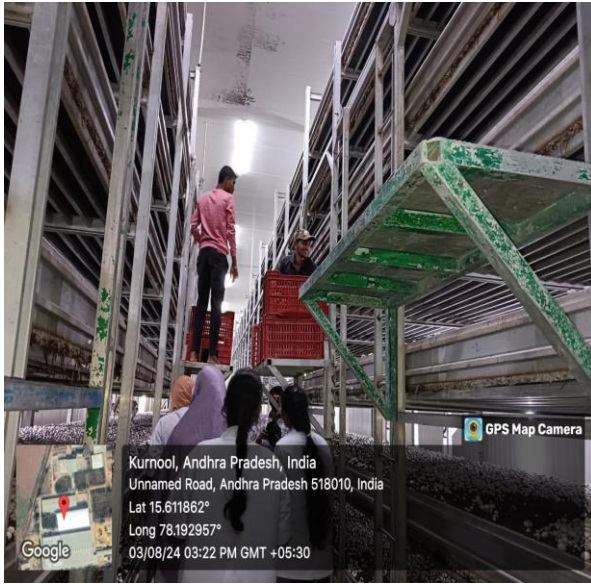

- The trip helps the students to understand the growing techniques of tiny umbrellas of enchantment.
- To make students realize the nature's way of reminding us that beauty can sprout anywhere

Program Outcomes:

- ❖ Students were captivated by the whimsical allure of mushroom by this visit.
- ❖ While wondering through the enchantic realm of mushroom students explored the basic infrastructure to establish a mushroom unit which help them to emerge as agripreneurs in mushroom business.
