INTRODUCTION

“My City & My Role” was a civic awareness conference organised by Impact in collaboration with Unified Spartan Nexus and Spartan Business Network at St. Joseph’s Degree College on 11 July 2025. The conference was conducted with the objective of promoting civic responsibility, environmental awareness, public discipline, and youth participation in building a clean, green, and healthy society.

The event served as a platform for students, educational institutions, civic representatives, and social organisations to come together and discuss the importance of responsible citizenship and community participation. The conference highlighted the role of youth in creating positive social change and encouraged students to actively contribute towards the development and cleanliness of Kurnool city.

The initiative was successfully led by Khaleel Shaik, President of Impact SJDC, along with the organising teams of Impact SJDC, Unified Spartan Nexus, and Spartan Business Network.

OBJECTIVES OF THE CONFERENCE

The major objectives of the conference were:

- To create awareness about civic sense and public responsibility among students and youth.
- To encourage active youth participation in community development initiatives.
- To promote environmental sustainability, greenery, and cleanliness.
- To spread awareness regarding discipline, respect for public property, and social responsibility.
- To inspire students to become responsible citizens and contributors towards society.
- To strengthen collaboration between educational institutions and civic organisations.

CHIEF GUEST & DIGNITARIES

The conference was honoured by the presence of distinguished dignitaries, faculty members, and civic representatives who addressed the gathering on the importance of civic responsibility, environmental awareness, and youth participation.
